Artesanos de hoy

What if artisan tradition were to be combined with more innovative technologies?

That's what Gaimo's founder José Luis Iturriaga thought in 1978. And it became reality.

Today, we're still committed to artisan values, producing each shoe by hand in Spain, using traditional methods.

We've never stopped exploring new kinds of innovation, incorporating the most advanced techniques to respond to today's needs.

These days, we infuse our collections with femininity in its various forms, as well as fashion trends.

We remain faithful to our origins and we're committed to everybody's future more than ever.
